My dad is a journalist, so he often takes me to different places. He also created a Facebook account for me, so I can post my vlogs there. The account has more than 1,000 followers. Hi Michael,

Listening 2:

I like new adventures and I used to play a lot of sport. Then, one day, a friend introduced me to skydiving. In this activity, you jump out of an airplane and fall for hundreds of meters before a parachute opens. My friend started skydiving two years ago. He said it was easy and very exciting, and I should try it. He gave me lessons in how to skydive, and then we went up in an airplane. We were strapped together and we jumped out of the airplane. We fell for thirty seconds before he opened our parachute. I was really scared. We went so fast! We landed safely, but I couldn't stand up for a few minutes because I was so scared. Many people think skydiving is an exciting hobby, but I thought it was frightening. Never again!
