Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 23 to 26.

My name is Pedro. Growing up, I lived in a big house with my parents, my two brothers and one sister, three grandparents, an uncle and aunt, and two cousins. It was like having a party every day! We shared stories, played games and helped each other. But it was also crowded, and sometimes we argued over small things like who got the last piece of cake.

Now, things are different. I have my own family, but it's just me, my wife and our baby son. We live in a small, two-bedroom apartment, which is fine for us at the moment until we have another child. I wish my parents and grandparents lived with us, but of course, it is impossible to find a big enough place. However, I don't miss all the noise and never having any time alone.

In the big family of my childhood, there was always someone to talk to, but it was hard to do that in private. In the smaller family which I have now, I can have a quiet conversation with my wife any time I want, but sometimes the apartment gets too quiet.

What makes a family good? Of course, the size of the household and the number of people who live together is not so important. The important thing about a family is the love which is shared in it.

23. What can you call the sort of family which Pedro grew up in?

- | | | | |
|----------------|-------------|--------------|------------|
| A. Traditional | B. Extended | C. Household | D. Nuclear |
|----------------|-------------|--------------|------------|

24. How many generations lived in Pedro's house?

- | | | | |
|----------|---------|---------|----------|
| A. Three | B. Four | C. Five | D. Seven |
|----------|---------|---------|----------|

25. Pedro and his family will have to move to a bigger place when _____.

- A. his parents and grandparents come to live with him
- B. he and his wife have another child
- C. his parents come to live with him
- D. his son gets older

26. What does it mean at the end of the last sentence?

- | | | | |
|---------|--------------|-----------|----------|
| A. Love | B. Household | C. Family | D. House |
|---------|--------------|-----------|----------|

27. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best arrangement of the sentences to make a meaningful dialogue

- a. Phuc: Maybe not. But her parents always expect her to get good grades and want her to go to a top college and study medicine.

- b. Amelie: Does she need to be that stressed out?
- c. Amelie: Hi Phuc! Where's Mai? Isn't she coming?
- d. Amelie: That's why she's been a bit tense lately. She doesn't know what to do.
- e. Phuc: She said she was too tired and didn't want to go out. She's been staying up late studying for the exam.

- D. Don't worry about me

Read the passage below and decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE. (29 – 32)

Traditional children's games in Britain

British children used to play many traditional games that are not as common today. Here are three of them.

Hopscotch is a game which was often played in playgrounds at school. Children draw boxes on the ground with chalk and then move on one foot from box to box. Moving in this way is called 'hopping'. This game was very popular, but it is not seen much now.

Marbles are small balls made of glass. Children put some of them in a circle which was drawn on the ground. Then they tried to hit each other's marbles out of the circle. You can still buy marbles in some British shops, but the game is not popular today.

Stick and hoop was a game in which children pushed a hoop – a circle of wood – along the ground with a stick, trying to keep it rolling without falling. This simple game is never seen nowadays.

- 29. The name 'hopscotch' comes from the way you have to move to play the game.
- 30. They play marble on the ground.
- 31. Children played conkers all through the year.
- 32. The writer says that all of these games are still played sometimes.

Do as directed in the brackets.

- 33. Ha Noi is a very famous tourist destination. It is a Vietnam's capital.
