Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 23 to 26.

Education in Vietnam is very important for children. The Vietnamese government believes that education helps people get better jobs and improve their lives. There are four main levels of education: primary, secondary, high school and higher education.

Primary education lasts for five years, and all children must go to school during this time. In primary school, students learn basic subjects like math, Vietnamese language, and science. After primary school, students go to secondary school for four years. In secondary school, they study more subjects and can choose some electives based on their interests.

Many schools in cities have good facilities and qualified teachers. However, some children in rural areas have problems. They may not have enough schools, teachers, or learning materials. The government is trying to help by building more schools and training more teachers in these areas.

23. How long does primary education last in Vietnam?
