V. Read the review of a new restaurant.

THE FOUR CORNERS

I've just got back from The Four Corners, a new restaurant that has become the most popular place to eat in town.

The reason for its popularity is simple. The Four Corners offers dishes from all over the world. You can eat Italian spaghetti, Chinese noodles, Indian curry and lots more here. In fact, the waiter told me that they serve one dish from each country in the world. I'm not sure I believe him, but it was a very big menu!

I chose spaghetti with tomato sauce. I've had this in lots of restaurants and sometimes it can be a little boring. Not here! The pasta, was perfect and the sauce was just like my mother used to make! I haven't had a pasta dish that good for ages. Later, I had apple pie with ice cream. It was perhaps the best apple pie I've ever eaten.

I recommend The Four Corners to anyone who wants a good night out with delicious food. Why don't you book a table tonight? I know I'm going back there as soon as I can.

V. Read the following passage.

In December, 2004, my family and I were on a beach holiday in Thailand. Our hotel was in a village on the coast, so I swam in the sea every day and even tried kite surfing.

On our fourth morning there, we were having breakfast in the hotel restaurant when, suddenly, our waiter pointed at something outside. For some strange reason, the sea was moving out very quickly – so that soon there was just wet sand for around 50 metres! My sister was taking pictures of the beach when an American tourist ran over to our table. “We’ve got to get out of here!” she shouted. She explained that an earthquake had happened on the ocean floor, and a tsunami was coming towards the coast!

The hotel manager led us outside and up a hill behind the hotel. Some guests and staff had already gathered there, and in minutes, the waves arrived. We all looked down as they crashed against the hotel. Soon, it was totally destroyed.

After a while, helicopters came to take us to a football stadium inland. We stayed there overnight, and the next morning we flew back to England. We felt exhausted, but very relieved to be safe. It was a scary experience that I’ll never forget.

A. Decide if the sentences (25-28) are R (right), W (wrong) or DS (doesn't say). (1 pt)
