Hi Bella,

I spoke to my family, and they had some great ideas for our trip to Barcelona this summer. They all visited

Spain last year, but I had to stay home and study for my high school exams. It'll be great to finally go!

My mom suggested we travel in May and June. She said the weather was the nicest then. She also suggested some places to visit. She said we should go to the La Sagrada Familia and the Camp Nou. I love soccer, so I would love to visit the Camp Nou.

My brother said we should eat at La Casa del Sabor Restaurant. He suggested we try the paella. He it was the best he had there. He also said we should call the restaurant and book a table before we because it's always very busy.

Finally, my dad gave me some really useful advice. He suggested we take socket adapters. They have different sockets in Spain. He also suggested we take fanny packs to keep our things safe. We should take both right?

Did you find anything out? Speak soon, Sarah

Read the passage below and decide whether the statements from 29 - 32 are TRUE or FALSE.

Which Job Is Right for You?

You shouldn't worry if you don't know what job you want to have. Most young people feel the same way.

However, we have to get a job if we want to have enough money to buy things and support a family.

Thinking about these things could help you choose that job:

- ✓ Personality — Being happy in your job is very important. If you know what you like (or don't like), you can understand which jobs are right for you. Don't choose a job just because of the money.
- ✓ Working style — YOU might enjoy working on a large team or alone. If you know the way you like to work, it could help you decide which type of job will suit you.
- ✓ Working environment — Maybe you work best in an office, or maybe outside. If you have an understanding of where you work best, you can expect to find jobs with the right working environment for you.
- ✓ Career test — If you like the idea of someone giving you career advice, you could always take an online career test. These tests are free, convenient, and widely available. When you complete the test, a report tells you the most suitable jobs for you.

29. people need jobs to take care of their families and to buy things.

30. making money is more important than being happy at work.

31. people need to learn how to work on a team and by themselves.

32. understanding where you work best will help you choose the correct job for yourself.
