Ví dụ 4. Read the following passage and mark the answer A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

As technology continues to advance at a rapid pace, the landscape of employment is expected to undergo significant changes. Jobs that are prevalent today might evolve or even disappear, making way for new roles that do not yet exist. One of the key drivers of this transformation is automation. Machines and algorithms are increasingly capable of performing tasks that were once the sole domain of humans. This shift will likely lead to a decline in routine, manual jobs but will also create opportunities in tech-focused fields.

In the future, jobs in artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, and data analysis are anticipated to be in high demand. These roles require specialized skills and continuous learning due to the fast-paced nature of technological advancements. Additionally, the rise of remote work, accelerated by the global pandemic, is expected to continue. This trend not only broadens job opportunities across geographical boundaries but also necessitates new skills in digital communication and collaboration.

Another significant trend is the growing importance of sustainability. Green jobs, focused on environmental conservation and renewable energy, are likely to see substantial growth. As societies become more aware of climate change, careers in these areas will not only be more abundant but also crucial for the future of our planet.

Adaptability is poised to become an indispensable trait for future workers. As the job market continues to evolve rapidly, the capacity to acquire new skills and seamlessly transition into diverse roles will be indispensable. In response, education systems must prioritize lifelong learning, ensuring individuals are equipped to navigate and thrive in this dynamic and ever-changing professional environment. Emphasizing continuous education and skill development will not only empower individuals to stay relevant but also enable them to contribute effectively to the evolving needs of industries worldwide."
