A day in the life of a farmer

At 12.00, everyone takes their lunch, and I can fuel up all of the harvesters and <sup>4</sup>_____, and <sup>5</sup>_____ all of the water jugs. In the afternoon, everything will be the same. I'm usually off work by 7.00 or 8.00 p.m., but on farmers' market nights, I won't be free until 9.00, 10.00 or 11.00 at night. ## 5.03

Countryside

Living in the countryside is very relaxing and peaceful with a slower pace of life. <sup>1</sup> _____.

Most people in the countryside are farmers or fishermen. They grow rice, raise animals, or fish to earn a living.

<sup>2</sup> _____. However, the countryside does not have as many good schools or hospitals as the bigger cities do. <sup>3</sup> _____.

Life in the city is faster and more exciting. There are more things to buy and do in the cities, so you won't get bored. Young people often leave their villages to go to the cities for work or college. <sup>4</sup> _____.

Thus, some people find living in big cities more dangerous and stressful than in the countryside. In spite of this, more people, especially young people, are moving to the crowded and noisy cities and settling down here.

- a The traffic jams, crime rate, and air pollution in the cities are worse than in the countryside.
- b The cost of living in the countryside is much lower than in the cities.
- c Life in the countryside may be too slow for some people.
- d Because of this, people in the countryside lead a healthy life and they seem to be friendly and helpful to their neighbours.

3 Which of the following is the best title of the article?

- 2 Benefits of country and city living
- 3 The good and bad things about living in the country and city

GRAMMAR Comparatives and superlatives of adverbs

I can use comparatives of adverbs to talk about living in a big city.

- 1 Look at the photos of London. What do you know about these places?

London is the largest and most exciting city in the UK. It has 8.9 million people and the nation's best museums, galleries, and theaters. The pace of life in London moves faster than elsewhere in the UK. Since London has traffic jams, many people use the underground to get around more quickly. Therefore, when you travel to London, you need to plan more carefully than when visiting other British cities. Air and noise pollution in London is not as bad as in other capital cities. In my opinion, drivers in London drive the most carefully in the world!
